Fred Harriman has learned of the death of a sister, Sarah Cordelia Harriman, wife of J. C. Currier, at Salix, Iowa, June 29, last. The deceased was born in Corinth in 1832, was married to Mr. Currier in 1853, moved to Northampton, Mass., then Pittsfield and later to Salix, Ia. She leaves a husband and two sons. The account of the death from an Iowa paper says: "Having been so well and favorably known for so many years, comment on her manner of living is unnecessary here. She had been sick for some time with a complicated heart trouble and, when the end came, passed quietly into her reward which she so richly merited."
